To 1994

FEBRUARY 17TH

Please take note!! We have a few seats left for our bus trip to the LA Museum. We will leave from Pic and Save parking lot at 8:00am. Will return home around 8:00 or 9:00 pm. We suggested sack lunches. This is entirely up to you. Some didn't care to, because there are several places to eat on the grounds. We will stop for dinner at Clifton's in LA. I don't know about most of you, but I think this will be an exciting, fun day. So have you signed up yet? It is only $15.00 and this includes our admission into the museum. Ask a friend!

Artist to <sup>MAR. 15</sup> demonstrate oil pastels

Kathleen Perry of Yucca Valley will demonstrate oil pastels following the general meeting of the Yucca Valley Art Association on Thursday at 7 p.m. at Pomona Savings and Loan Association.

Perry is one of the artists who painted two background scenes for the dioramas going into the new museum addition. She worked on the large background in the museum's fluorescent room with Nick Yellenti.

She works in a wide choice of media such as oil, acrylic, pastel, watercolor, scratchboard and ballpoint pen.

Pottery, artifacts and antiques are restored and plaster and tile items are also part of her repertoire. She does sculpting as well.

When Perry isn't busy in her studio, she enjoys riding her horse named Cherokee. She is often seen in Grubstake Days parades and Morongo Valley Fiesta parades dressed as a frontier trapper, wearing hand-sewn buckskins and carrying a long rifle and frontier trappings.

She is also an organ and accordion player.

She has exhibited her work at various shows throughout the Morongo Basin, Palm Springs, and at several fairs, where she has won numerous awards.

Rieman to speak at YVAA

The general meeting of the Yucca Valley Art Association on Thursday at 7 p.m. at Pomona Savings and Loan Association will include a program by Steve Rieman.

He will discuss the most powerful influences on his painting, especially since moving to the desert. He has investigated the artificial and natural processes continually at work sculpturing and coloring the landscape, with their infinite relationships and contrasts and their ever so delicate balance.

The program will include slides showing the creation of His latest work in this awareness.

Rieman's watercolors have been included in recent shows at the Academy of Design, New York; the American Watercolor Society, New York; Watercolor West, California; Kentucky Watercolor Society; and Pittsburgh Watercolor Society, Pennsylvania.

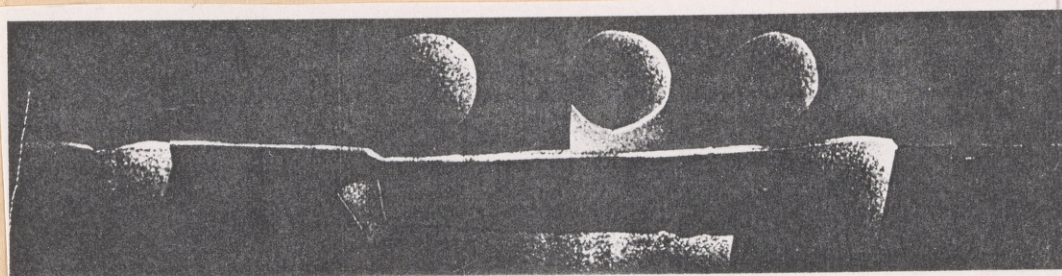

A graduate of Art Center College of Design in Pasadena, he has operated his own freelance design studio since 1974. Rieman said that he enjoys sharing his work via local and national shows.

YV Art Assoc.

The Yucca Valley Art Association will see a demonstration by Don O'Neill, a watercolor artist from Riverside, when the group meets on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the Yucca Valley Community Center.

O'Neill is a signature artist with Watercolor West.

The association will also elect new officers. 5/16/90

IN MEMORIAM

We recently learned of the passing of long-time member MINI BRANSFORD. She was such a sweet and charming lady, and a delight to visit with, for she had lived in the area a long time. We are saddened by her passing. May 1990

25th ANNIVERSARY PARTY • SEPT. 23 1990

Art association celebrates 25th anniversary with party

YUCCA VALLEY — The 25th anniversary of the Yucca Valley Art Association was celebrated on Sept. 23.

The Fellowship Hall of the United Methodist Church was beautifully decorated with sterling silver tea servers, punch bowls and candelabras, set off with yellow chrysanthemums, carnations and babies' breath. Clusters of yellow, silver and blue balloons with silver bows decorated the tables for a festive look.

Finger sandwiches and birthday cake were enjoyed by the more than 60 guests who gathered to hear organ music provided by past president, Al Rodau. It was also a time to rekindle old friendships as some guests were members of the association 20 years ago.

Four of the association's past presidents shared the cutting of the first piece of birthday cake. They were Al Rodau, 1973-74; Cleo Hawley, 1986-87; Jackie Smith, first term 1977-78 and Bill Long, first term 1967-70.

The new year's slate of officers was introduced by board member, Eva Shemmer. They are president, Jackie Smith; 1st vice president, Barbara Malin; 2nd vice president, Bill Frazee; treasurer, Bill Long; recording secretary, Cleo Hawley and correspondence secretary, Francis Sledge. Board members are Dorothy Workman, Harvey Holmes, Freda Holmes, Addison Willey, Shirley Willey, Sally Mills and Elsie Grace.

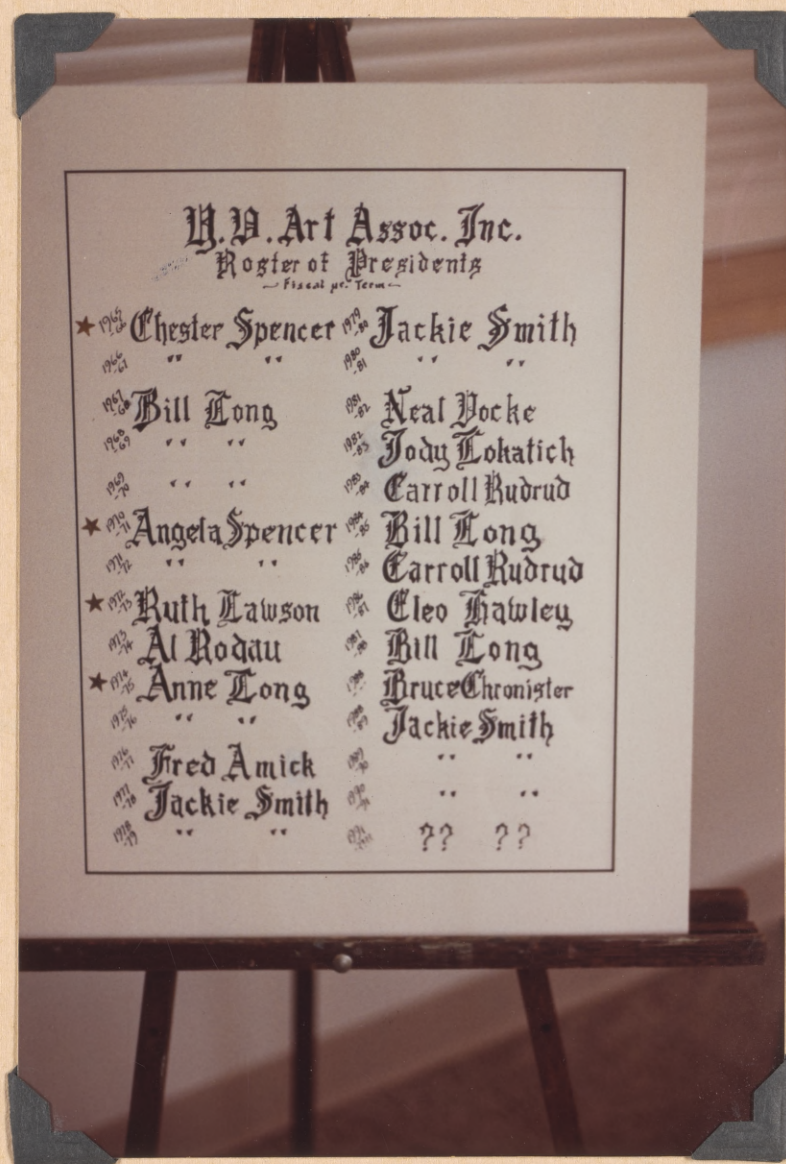

The first general meeting of the year will be Oct. 16. There will be a slide presentation on India by Lynn Patterson.

The association has a charter bus going to the Ice Capades on Nov. 4. There are a few seats left. The cost is $30.

Call Jackie at 228-1343 for information on the meeting or the trip to see the Ice Capades.

Dan Kelly to show off art

YUCCA VALLEY — After being replaced by a computer after 27 years as a technical illustrator in aerospace publications, Dan Kelly now has the time and opportunity to paint what he wants to paint.

Kelly chooses as his subjects scenics, seascapes, animals, old structures, people and aviation. He also does commissioned art of many subjects. For accurate detail, Kelly often uses a camera to capture his subject clearly.

The media with which Kelly likes to work are watercolor and acrylics. He has won numerous awards and ribbons at art shows.

Kelly will be giving a demonstration on the use of acrylics at the 7 p.m. April 18 meeting of the Yucca Valley Art Association at Pomona Savings.

For more information, call Jackie Smith at 228-1343.

IN MEMORIAM

We are truly saddened to learn of the passing of two of our long time friends and supporters of the museum.

Laurel Martin passed away right after Christmas. She was the lovely wife of our beloved friend Kirk, now they are together. January 1991.

Schedule

SWAP MEET ORGANIZER — Lorraine Williams, local artist, is pictured at an area art show. She is the organizer of an artist's swap meet to be held Saturday. Sponsor of the event is the Yucca Valley Art Association.

Artists' swap meet planned

YUCCA VALLEY — If you are an artist, you will know how expensive it is to buy materials and to be able to practice enough. Practice is essential if you expect to develop your full ability.

In order to help out, the Yucca Valley Art Association is planning to hold an artist's "Swapmeet" on Saturday, May 4 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

It will be held at what was the old New York Subway store next to Javon's in the Safeway Mall in Yucca Valley, just three stores from Clark

Art Center.

Art supplies will be on sale. These include canvasses (new and used), unframed paintings, new and used frames, paints, brushes, etc. Finished paintings will also be available.

If you are an artist looking for bargains, or an artist with items to sell, this is an excellent opportunity. Artists with items to sell or trade should come by 9:30 a.m. to set up.

Any questions may be directed to Lorraine Williams, 364-3634. This swap meet is open to the public.

TRAVELING ARTIST—Sally Mills, a Yucca Valley artist, displayed her seascapes at a recent meeting of the Morongo Valley Women's Club. She was traveling in Portugal when she painted them.

Artist shows at MVWC

MORONGO VALLEY — Morongo Valley Women's Club had a full schedule planned for its February business meeting and Valentine luncheon.

Red and white lace hearts decorated the tables. The kindergarten class from Morongo Valley Elementary School entertained the group with patriotic songs and a quiz directed by teacher Sandra Firl.

Also a guest at the luncheon was Sally Mills, a talented artist from Yucca Valley who displayed three of her beautiful seascape paintings she created while on her visit to Portugal.

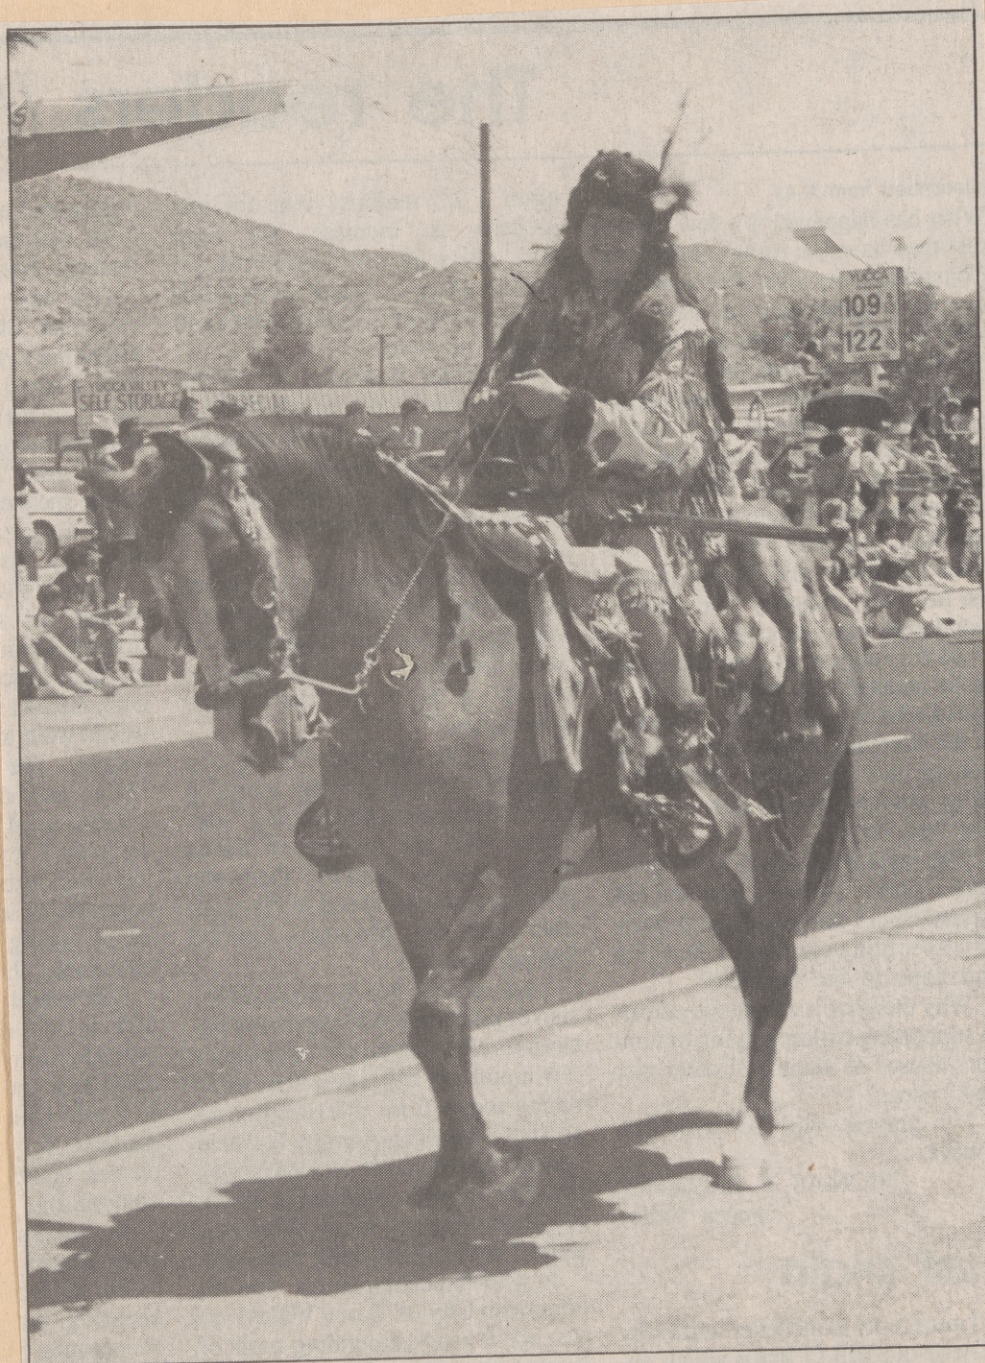

The next business meeting and luncheon is scheduled for March 7 to be held at the clubhouse at 49584 Mojave in Morongo Valley. The club welcomes new members. For information, call 363-6720.

Grubstake Days 1991

SHE'S A WINNER — Katholeen Perry won the sweepstakes equestrian award. Her furred and fringed costume is an annual sight at the Grubstake Days parade.

ART SHOW

ART SHOW TIME — The largest art show of the year sponsored by the Yucca Valley Art Association is held during Grubstake Days, May 25 -27 at Pomona First Federal Savings and Loan. All types of fine arts and crafts are offered. Last year there were even handcrafted toys, like the merry-go-round, right, to capture the fancy of show-goers. For information, call 228-1343.

The San Diego Zoo

BUSTRIP. JULY 14 1991

SAN DIEGO ZOO

The zoo is another legacy from the Panama-California International Exposition of 1915-16. Dr. Harry Wegeforth took over a small menagerie left after the fair and developed it into what is now the world's largest wild animal collection. Balboa Park's premier attraction, the zoo contains over 5500 animals of 1600 species. The animals are displayed outdoors year-round, thanks to San Diego's equable climate. The "natural" setting of the zoo is enhanced by extensive use of enclosures without bars. Highlights include several rare species, a koala display, an outstanding assemblage of primates, the world's largest reptile collection and the new Cascade Canyon artificial river for aquatic African antelope and birds. The 100-acre zoo is beautifully landscaped with tropical and subtropical vegetation. Guided bus tours, approximately 45 minutes long, are a popular way to see the zoo. The Skyfari aerial tramway gives zoo-goers a panoramic view of the animals below. The Children's Zoo, located within the main zoo, gives youngsters (and adults) a chance to pet and play with some of the gentler creatures. Also featured are an incubator for baby chicks and an animal nursery. Hours: the zoo opens daily at 9 a.m.; closes at 4 p.m., November through February; at 5 p.m., Labor Day through October and March through June; at 6 p.m., July through Labor Day. Zoo admission: adults $2, children (under 16) free. Children's Zoo: adults 25¢, children (under 16) 15¢. Skyfari fare: adults 50¢, children (under 12) 25¢. Guided bus tours: adults $1, children (under 12) 50¢.

Lily Pond and House of Hospitality

House of Hospitality

Built for the 1915-16 exposition, this building is patterned after a hospital in Toledo, Spain. On the north side of its pleasant courtyard is an information center staffed by friendly senior citizen volunteers; on the south side is a restaurant. Information center hours: daily, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

OBITUARIES

Harvey Dean Holmes

No services will be held for Harvey Dean Holmes, 82, of Yucca Valley, who died July 1, at Desert Hospital.

A native of Wheeling, West Virginia, Mr. Holmes was a 60-year resident of California and a 30-year resident of Yucca Valley.

He was a construction superintendent for Anderson Brothers for 20 years before his retirement. He was a charter member of the Star Twirlers Square Dance Club and a member of the Yucca Valley Art Association.

He is survived by his wife of 54 years, Freda Holmes of Yucca Valley; a brother, Oliver Holmes of Delta, Ohio; a niece, Sandi Collins of Yorba Linda and a nephew, Robert Holmes of Delta, Ohio.

Bustrip. 7-14-91

Balboa Park

When farsighted city fathers set aside 1400 acres of pueblo land for a city park in 1868, most of the land was barren except for cactus and chaparral. In just over 100 years, this wilderness tract at the edge of a sleepy little town has become an important center of cultural and recreational activities of modern San Diego. Balboa Park now contains lush vegetation, formal gardens, picnic grounds, museums, art galleries, theaters, the world's largest zoo, golf courses and other sports facilities.

The greatest boost toward the development of Balboa Park came when San Diegans chose it as the site of the Panama-California International Exposition, held in 1915 and 1916. The park was then given its present name, and several beautiful exhibit halls were constructed along El Prado (The Promenade). Although most of these Spanish colonial structures were scheduled for demolition after the fair, proud citizens decided they should remain.

Another world's fair, the California-Pacific International Exposition, was staged in Balboa Park in 1935 and 1936. New exhibit halls were built in what is now called the Pan American Plaza. Most are still in use, although not all are open to the public on a regular basis.

25th Y.V. ART ASSOCIATION FESTIVAL OF FINE ARTS

Art show brings out area's best

YUCCA VALLEY — Entries for the Yucca Valley Art Association's 25th annual Festival of Fine Arts Judged Show will be accepted Thursday from 9 a.m. to noon at the 'Male Box' at Desert Hills Plaza.

The entries must be the original work of the artist and not have been shown in any association show in the last two years. The show is open to members and nonmembers of the association.

Cash awards and ribbons will be given to Sweepstakes and Best of Divisions, which include oil/acrylics, watercolor/acrylics, all media, graphics, and photography/sculpture.

Entry forms and show rules may be obtained at Javon's or Plaza Framers in Desert Hills Plaza. The show will be held at the Male Box.

The paintings will be judged on Friday from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m., at which time the show will be open to the public until 9 p.m. The awards will be presented at approximately 7 p.m.

Saturday and Sunday viewing hours will be from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Art Association president Jackie Smith said the show is one of the largest in Southern California. Last year's show featured 74 entrants from around the state.

Smith said the show is known for being a springboard for several successful artists.

"Bev Doolittle, Valerie Terzel; these people were just young kids that started out here and now they're known all over the world."

The quality of competition has frazzled some judges in recent years, Smith said.

"We've have had some great artists that have entered," Smith said. "The judge last year told me it was the most difficult show he's ever judged because of the quality."

In addition to the official judging, the public will be allowed to judge the show.

New art show to start

Troy Ruback, an artist who works out of Pioneertown, shows off one of his works, "Gladiolus," a pointillistic piece done in pencil. Some of Ruback's works will be on display at the Hi-Desert Nature Museum for two months, opening Jan. 9.

In keeping with the spirit of the New Year, the works of at least two artists will be featured in new displays in the Morongo Basin.

Troy Ruback is the Hi-Desert Nature Museum's artist for the months of January and February. A reception tea for Ruback will be held Saturday at the museum from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. and will be hosted by Yucca Valley Art Association.

Ruback is best known for his portraits of people, compositions, still-lives, interiors, and large florals. He has also done special things such as tole art.

Some of Ruback's works have hung in galleries in Laguna Beach, Desert Hot Springs, and galleries throughout the Morongo Basin.

Ruback realized his interest in the art media as an adolescent and started to paint seriously while in high school. His painting pursuits continued into college, but the urge to paint kept drawing him away from his studies. Thus, he decided to make his way in the art world on his talent.

Since moving to the desert he has found his love for nature growing and his desire to paint natural scenes. He finds this a real challenge and difficult.

Museum curator retires after 28 years

By SUSAN CHANEY
Hi-Desert Star Staff Writer

YUCCA VALLEY — The driving force behind the Hi-Desert Nature Museum will be gone as of March 29, the date curator Evelyn Conklin will retire after 28 years.

Conklin was pressed into starting a nature museum here when a neighbor, Camilla Hudson, learned she had started the first nature museum in Los Angeles County.

The young woman had moved to Pioneertown with her father when he retired from his work in the nature field. They spent time building a home and traveling. After six years, pressure mounted and Conklin was drafted in 1964 into starting the museum under the auspices of the Yucca Valley Recreation and Park District.

The museum opened in 1965 and hosted over 10,000 visitors its first year.

"I'm satisfied with what we have accomplished," Conklin said Wednesday. However, she did have a lot of dreams for the museum that never materialized.

"We could have had something that would have put the town on the map," she said, "If somebody had gotten behind it."

She feels the museum has always been the orphan of the park district, not unlike museums everywhere.

"Museums always desperately need money," she said.

Rumors that the park board might decide to start charging admission concern Conklin.

Park Board Chairman Dave Richmond said that was the first he'd heard of such an idea.

The museum is a depository for collections and artifacts with education and entertainment as its focus.

"You can't make people pay," she said.

She would like to see the museum looked at as a good tourist thing.

"The chamber never got behind it and promoted it," she said. In the early years, the chamber would tell callers that there wasn't any museum in Yucca Valley.

"I feel like it's a good time to get out," she said of her retirement. It's too much government. I spend 90 percent of my time doing paperwork, she said.

Conklin has been a county employee all these years and will be 65 on her last day of work.

She said she has met a lot of wonderful people over the years and handled a lot of beautiful things.

"I want to thank you all for your wonderful support," Conklin wrote in a recent newsletter to museum association members. "Many of you stood by me and lent a helping hand whenever there was a need. Your warmth and friendship I will always cherish."

Over the years, she's earned a reputation for knowing about the animals and plants that inhabit this desert region. She was once registered as a judge for Boy and Girl Scout nature projects.

Lots of students from all over California call and ask her to identify parts of botany collections. Members of nature clubs she started in Los Angeles still correspond with her.

Despite rumors that the museum might go all volunteer, Cindy Gleason, administrative secretary for the recreation and park district, said she has applied for budgetary approval from the county to replace Conklin. Richmond said it was the first he'd heard of that

Obituaries

HERMIONE BAKER

Hermione A. Baker

A memorial service will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday from Desert Hills Presbyterian Church in Yucca Valley for Hermione Allen Baker of Yucca Valley.

Inurnment will be private.

Mrs. Baker, a native of Onawa, Ia., died Thursday at her home following a long illness. She was 74.

A 45-year resident of California and a 14-year resident of Yucca Valley, she was an educator for most of her life. She studied at the State University of Iowa, California State University at Long Beach (where she earned a Master of Arts degree), and International College (where she received a Ph.D. in Folk Studies). 3-1-92

Locally, in addition to her CRTA and PEO involvements, she has also been active and held offices with the Morongo Valley Conservation Association, the Democratic Club, Peace Now, Delta Kappa Gamma, and her cancer support group.

Mrs. Baker was preceded in death by her husband, Clarence P. Baker (1984) and a son, Hugh P. Baker.

She is survived by two daughters, Jane Franklin, of Paradise, and Linda Rowe, of San Diego; one son, Stannard Baker, of Vermont; a brother, Phil Allen, of Omaha, Neb.; three grandsons, Edward, Jamie and Michael Franklin, all of Paradise; a niece; and several nephews.

The family is in charge of the arrangements and suggests that expressions of sympathy may be in the form of contributions to the American Friends Service Committee, 980 Fair Oaks Avenue, Pasadena, Calif. 91103. 2/14/92

IN MEMORIUM

Members Hermione Baker, Myrtle William & Ruth Hunnicutt have passed away this past month. All these lovely ladies have been wonderful supporters over the years at the museum having served in many capacities. Our sympathies go out to their families. 3-1-92 Hunnicutt

Mrs. Baker taught in several western Iowa schools from 1939-43. In California, she taught in Elsinore, Whittier, and began working for the Long Beach Unified School District in 1954, where she taught English and served as a school counselor.

From 1960-71, she served as assistant principal in three Long Beach high schools. She then joined the staff of an alternative public high school program and in 1974 helped coordinate the Folk Life Center at California State University at Long Beach.

As part of this work, she was a founder of another alternative high school in Hawaiian Gardens.

Following her retirement, Mrs. Baker remained active in Education through the California Retired Teachers Association (CRTA) and PEO.

With roots in the Religious Society of Friends in Iowa, Mrs. Baker was also involved in local, regional and national Quaker activities. For many years an active member of the Marloma Friends Meeting in San Pedro and Long Beach, upon her retirement to the Hi-Desert she and her husband founded the Morongo Basin Friends Worship Group. She also served as presiding clerk of the Southern California Quarterly Meeting and Pacific Yearly Meeting, served as a board member of both the Pacific Southwest Regional Office and National Office of the American Friends Service Committee, and was a prison visitor who served on the National Board of Prison Visitation and Support.

Louise Poff 5-17-92

A memorial service will be held Thursday 2 p.m. at the Faith Lutheran Church in Joshua Tree for Louise Poff of Joshua Tree, Pastor Mark Rowland of Faith Lutheran Church will officiate.

An additional service will be held Thursday at 3 p.m. at the Landers Moose Lodge. A buffet will be served at the later service.

Poff, a native of Salt Lake City, Utah, died Sunday at Hi-Desert Medical Center in Joshua Tree. She was 76.

A 12-year resident of Joshua Tree, she worked as a cosmetologist instructor in Long Beach.

Posh was an active member of the Morongo Basin community. She was an art student at Copper Mountain College, a member of the Chapparral Artists, and Morongo Valley Art Colony. She was a board member of the Morongo Basin Humane Society, and a volunteer worker in Hospice of Morongo Basin, and Morongo Basin Adult Health Services. She was also a member of the Women of the Moose No. 1373, American Legion Auxiliary No. 469, and Ladies Auxiliary to VFW Post No. 7264.

Posh is survived by her mother, Jean Ferrero of Joshua Tree; her aunt, Comfort Pinchin of Joshua Tree; two sons, Frank Poetzsch of San Francisco and Fred Poetzsch of Lafayette; a daughter, Shelly Vernon of Norwalk; a brother, Bill Timmins of Yucaipa; and 2 grandchildren.

The family suggests that rather than flowers, expressions of sympathy be in the form of contributions to Hospice of Morongo Basin, 61693, Suite A, Twentynine Palms Highway, Joshua Tree.

4-1-92 YV Art Association

Floral paintings will be the theme for April when the Yucca Valley Art Association members and friends meet April 6 at noon for their luncheon meeting in the Masonic Temple. A popular vote will be taken, for which a ribbon will be awarded. Robert Summers and Dorothy Workman were tie winners for March with their animal paintings.

Artist Marcy Kenny of Cathedral City will demonstrate a portrait in pastels during the meeting. She is an accomplished teacher/portraitist, having completed more than 20,000 likenesses. Kenny will render one of these for a member or guest. The public is invited.

The annual Mini-Maxi Art Show held recently was an attraction for some 100 viewers. Ribbons were awarded as follows: Minis — Jewel Dawson first and second places, and Kathleen Perry, third place and honorable mention. In the Maxi division, Betty Warner received best of show and second place awards. First, third and honorable mention were won by Robert Summers.

For more information about the Yucca Valley Art Association, call 366-9674.

Y.V. ART ASSOCIATION

The Yucca Valley Art Association will host its twelfth annual Mini-Maxi art show in the community room of Pomona Savings and Loan on Saturday and Sunday, from 10 a.m.-5 p.m.

The "little-big" show is unique with small paintings eight by 10 inches and under, and over 24 by 36 inches. These sizes are not usually accepted in regular art shows.

The public is welcome and guests are invited to vote for favorites in both categories.

For more information about the Yucca Valley Art Association call 366-9674.

Arts, crafts show one of events

By PAULA MENDER
Basin Life Editor

YUCCA VALLEY — The biggest show of the year for arts and crafts in Yucca Valley is the annual "Grubstake Daze Round Up," sponsored by the Yucca Valley Art Association, Inc. during Grubstake Days.

"This year the show will once again be at the Pomona Savings and Loan Parking lot, at the corner of Twentynine Palms Highway and Old Woman Springs Road," said Jackie Smith, president of the Yucca Valley Art Association (YVAA).

Show hours all three days will be 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

"This is the largest outdoor show of the year and is for both fine arts and crafts artists," said Smith.

"People on the way to and from the (Colorado) River will also stop," she said, "so within the last couple of years we decided to continue the exhibit through the Monday following Grubstake Days.

"In the fine arts group, so far we have award-winning artists Dorothy Workman, Betty Warner, Donna Menchen, and Helen Seal as well as all members of the Art Association," Smith said.

"Topping off the crafts will be hand-made 'rocking animals' and cloth dolls by Richard and Pat McIntosh of Joshua Tree," she said. "Rocking animals such as camels, cows, pigs, goats and even a horse will be featured."

Smith said other works cleared for display thus far include "leather work and cross stitching — there's always a beautiful setup by Freda Holmes — and animal dolls and wood carvings by Laurie Doss of Apple Valley, Dottie Workman's daughter.

"This year will also see a few new faces in the craft field," said Smith. "There will be tole painting by Debby Blake and glass earrings by Wanda Blaine, for example.

"All works, both fine art and crafts, are the original work of the showing artist. No commercial products are shown.

"We screen all works of art," Smith said. "The subject matter has to be in good taste,....no pornography.

"No offense to swap meets," she said, "but this is not a swap-meet type show. It's more original, fine arts-oriented."

Smith said she's hoping all artists interested in applying to exhibit in the show will do so by May 18, "but I try and be flexible about the dates.

"Some artists show up at the last minute — the day before — but if I have room I'll still accept it if it meets the rules," she said.

The night before the show, said Smith, members of the YVAA who have recreational vehicles begin their own version of "circling the wagons around the campfire," so to speak, in the parking lot of Pomona Federal.

"We don't form an actual circle," Smith said. "We kind of get our RVs into the shape of an 'L' to form a wind-break and begin setting up the large displays.

"The night before we have a bar-becue — it's not open to the public — kind of a kick-off for the Association members," she said.

"Non-members can show their works, but a $10 setup fee is requested.

"We take the 10 percent given to us by exhibiting artists and use it for advertising and a $500 scholarship for a promising Yucca Valley High School art student," said Smith.

"Margaret Hyek, who teaches art there, chooses the student each year," she said.

The history of the YVAA "goes way back," Smith said. "I'm not exactly sure how many years there's been an art show from the association or its predecessors, but Bill Long, a past president of the group for many years said it's been in existence for more than 30 years now."

According to Long, "There was originally a Yucca Valley Art Association, formed by Harold Lawson, Ruth Lawson's husband.

"They had a gallery...with a curator for less than a year. It barely got off the ground. The secretary of that group was Chester Spencer, an artist, and he formed the Hi-Desert Studio Guild, which remained in existence until I believe around 1967, at which time it became the Yucca Valley Art Association, and I was the first president of it.

"Sally (Green) Mills, the Association historian, probably has more precise dates," said Long.

Mills, who has lived in Yucca Valley since the late 1960s, provided the following history from one of her early Association scrapbooks:

"In the mid-60s, Chester L. Spencer and his wife Angela, invited artists to their home. The purpose of the gathering was to conduct field trips and 'paint outs.'

"They soon decided it was time to have an artists club in Yucca Valley, and in August of 1965 at a 'paint out' in Pioneertown this fun group discussed forming an Art Association.

"Kirk Martin got the ball rolling when he pulled a five dollar bill out of his pocket to start the membership fee. Others at that meeting were Lucile Morton, Marg. Schoenleber, Mary Linehan, Josephine Richards, Isobel Cramer.

"At the September 28 (1965) meeting, there were 15 artists present: Hildegard Melzger, Florence Golterman, Mary Linehan, Dr. Rodney Pack, Marcia Terrell, Jack Brenda, Arlet Collie and Peter Eagle, among those known to be present.

"...Melzger suggested the group's name be: 'Hi-Desert Studio Guild.' ....At a regular meeting of the 'Hi-Desert Studio Guild' held February 7, 1967, a motion was made that the name be changed to 'Yucca Valley Art Association.' The motion was voted on and passed. Plans for a change of name were finalized on April 18, 1967.

"....The following year, July 31, 1968, the Association was incorporated, and has since been known as Yucca Valley Art Association, Inc."

Mills' scrapbook, which contains news clippings of the success of some of the early artists of the YVAA, Kirk Martin and Isabel Cramer, among the most notable original members, also acknowledges Blue Skies Country Club as its first 'patron' and former longtime Hi-Desert Nature Museum Curator Evelyn Conklin as its first "Life Member."

Neither Mills nor Long were sure how long local artists had been a part of Grubstake Days.

"I came here (Yucca Valley) in July of 1962," said Long, "...to the best of my knowledge the Hi-Desert Studio...had been running for some time before I got here, about a year, I believe."

"But this has always been a very active art area up here. Grubstake Days originally had nothing to do with the art show, there were artists here long before," he said.

"Gil Buck, a surveyor in town, and his wife had an art group prior to the original Yucca Valley Art Association existence, and she had things going....and the Twentynine Palms Art Guild over there started way before that.

"The history of art in this valley goes way back," said Long. "...You've got highly professional artists, and artists who paint just for fun...you take our art work here and compare it to other art shows in other areas and it'll stand up."

"There were a lot bigger Grubstake Days (art) shows prior to the mid-sixties," Long said. "The Grubstake Days (art) show that you see now has been in existence clear back to 1967."

"The original shows were held down in front of the old Security Pacific Bank building, where Church (Street) comes down near the present day Texaco station across the street (Twentynine Palms Highway) — it's now a real estate office — the area in front of that, that's where the art group had shows, there. We moved it up to Pomona (First Federal Savings and Loan) to have a bigger show."

"Originally, the group consisted just of Chester Spenser and a chosen 20 closed group of art students. When I became president I opened it up, and we immediately had 100 members," said Long.

"...We've had Grubstake shows at different locations...we used to exhibit in what was known then as Triangle Park where the sabre tooth tiger is now. But that area there was wide open then...there weren't flowers and shrubs."

Rules for the art and crafts show are as follows:

- All works must be fine arts and/or crafts; only work considered suitable for public display will be allowed;

- All works shown for sale must be the original or reproduced work of the displaying artist; no commercial agents or dealers may participate;

- Artists must show in their designated spaces unless other arrangements are made by the show committee; shows open at 9 a.m. and set up time is 8 a.m. unless otherwise stated for original shows; as a courtesy to fellow artists, one should not leave a show earlier than the specified time (if emergencies should arise, i.e. illness, weather, et cetera, then the show committee should be consulted);

- Display stands should be approximately 54 inches high, and display or business tables, sturdy, with plain cover to the floor to enhance the exhibit and hide packing materials, et cetera; purses, cameras and money boxes should be kept well out of sight to prevent theft; no works of art should be on the floor; all two-dimensional art works should be properly framed for display, any unframed watercolors or graphics should be matted and in a suitable bin or on tables; leave excess art works out of sight until needed;

- Prepare for wind; sand or water-filled plastic bottles or heavy objects suspended on rope or wire work well;

- All spaces will be reserved with the receipt of entry fee and application; entry fee shall be $5 for members and $10 for non-members unless otherwise stated for particular shows.

CONTINUE -

Barbara Phillips of Landers is displaying handmade jewelry and lapidary work.

"Oh, I've been doing this for 30 years," she said. "I got real frustrated about jewelry of mine that got broken and wanted to learn how to fix it, and so took a course at Sunny Hills High School in lapidary arts, and then I joined rock clubs and went on field trips and learned more, — faceting, sphere cutting — I learned everything."

"Then I just started jewelry making. I didn't really think much about it until moving out here 12 years ago. I never thought about selling until I just seemed to have so much jewelry I'd made."

Well-known local award-winning painters Betty Warner of Joshua but aren't.

"There's an interesting story behind these," she explained. "Do you know where Slab City is?"

"People are out there with their motor homes," she said. "You can't believe it. They park their RVs there. That's the biggest swap meet I've ever seen. Anyway, my husband and I found these old coke can tops there. They used to be on the top of old cans they used to use in the orange groves to burn coke to keep the oranges and trees from freezing. Look, this one says 1924," she said, pointing to the raised lettering underneath one she'd painted.

"I use acrylic on them," she said. "Then a bit of wash."

Workman and Warner both said they paint most of their subjects from a combination of memory of scenes they enjoy while traveling and their own personal embellishment.

Tree and Dorothy Workman of Yucca Valley are also displaying their works this year.

Warner said she started painting in 1952 when she and her husband were building a home here.

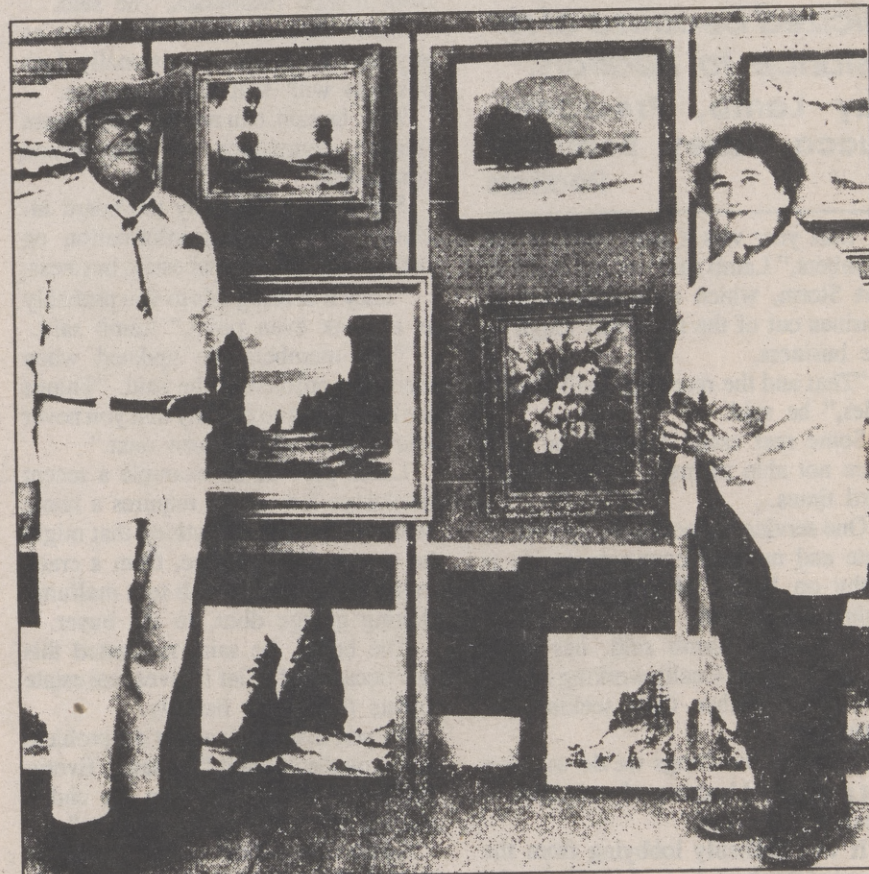

"We needed some works to hang on our walls, so we decided to do our own," she said.

"I started with watercolors and worked my way up to oils. With watercolors, you should be fresh and spontaneous, but with oils you can go back to them."

"My husband (Loring Warner) had painted for some time. He built all of my frames from scratch, from raw lumber. We used to travel all over California and sell paintings."

"He died two years ago and I haven't found another partner since. I used to paint from one to five every day — practice makes perfect, you know — but now that he's gone, I have to do all the things he used to do that gave me free time to paint, so I don't get to paint as much."

Workman enjoys painting on unwanted pieces of wood and shingles as well as the usual canvas. Some of her most interesting works on display are what appear to be tole craft,

FOUNDERS — Chester Spenser and his wife Angela founded the "Hi-Desert Studio Guild" in the mid-1960s, paving the way for the present-day Yucca Valley Art Association (YVAA).

YUCCA VALLEY — Twenty-four high-caliber local artisans and painters opened the Yucca Valley Art Association's (YVAA) annual "Grubstake Daze Round Up" art festival at 9 a.m. Saturday.

The festival, in the parking lot of Pomona First Federal Savings and Loan on the corner of Joshua Lane and Twentynine Palms Highway in Yucca Valley, will continue through today from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. There is no admission charge.

In addition to many fine paintings, handmade leather, jewelry, and other handcrafted gift items such as stained glass, dolls and wall hangings are on display.

Some artisans may continue showing Monday, "but that's really up to the individual artists," said Jackie Smith, president of the YVAA. "We really can't say for sure if they will still be there Monday."

"It also has to do with the weather," she said. "Right now, many of them are having a difficult time contending with the wind."

Lisette Clark of Landers, who has a large display of handmade dolls, bears, decorative wall pieces and other handcrafts, most of which are fairly lightweight, is one artisan who has been battling the rather strong winds.

"This is my fourth year here," she said. "I usually begin showing this time of the year and then I travel."

"I go up to Washington and go to shows up there. Over here (in Yucca Valley) it's a problem with the wind. So once the kids are out of school, I take off for Washington."

"A lot of people here know me pretty well and every once in a while I'll do the (Sky Drive-In) swap meet or something else, like small local shows in shopping centers, things like that, but only if I know the people will be coming," she said.

"It's just too windy here most of the time."

Clark said she's been hand crafting items for about six years now.

Most items take anywhere from an hour to five or six hours.

One of the most popular handcrafts she sells, she said, seems to be her wedding photo albums. "Those take at least three-and-a-half

Watercolorist pays visit to local art group

YUCCA VALLEY — Kolan Peterson, watercolorist, will be the guest artist and demonstrator at the Yucca Valley Art Association's next meeting, Feb. 1 at 1 p.m. in the Masonic Temple, Yucca Valley.

Peterson, a resident of Hemet where he maintains his art studio, has written two books on watercolor painting and several of his works are included in Walter Foster's new collector's hardback series in instruction.

He is a teacher, demonstrator and art show judge who participates in the invitational All Western Death Valley 49ers Show each fall.

Peterson and his wife, Sharon, travel throughout the western states conducting workshops and demonstrations.

He has performed over 100 watercolor demonstrations for art associations and clubs.

During the summer months Peterson travels with his students and conducts outdoor workshops on the coast at Morro Bay, the Tetons and Jackson Hole, Wyo.

By working outdoors, his students are able to study the mountains, streams and trees first hand.

Everyone is welcome to attend the demonstration.

For information call Betty Warner at 366-9674.

Members and guests of Yucca Valley Art Association are welcome to bring a landscape painting done in any medium for the popular vote and ribbon.

A Feb. 14 Valentine's Day party is planned with details to be announced at the meeting.

The Yucca Valley Art Association will have Mike Johnson, an award winning artist and sculptor, as demonstrator at their meeting Monday at the Masonic Temple.

Lunch will be at noon, followed by the meeting at 1 p.m.

Johnson, who will cover drawing with paint and color mixing, portrays the desert and southwest waters with a special skill.

He frequently works with watercolor and pastel on location. He also uses a camera to record details for his paintings.

Johnson is an alumni of Otis Art Institute where he sharpened his talent for sculpting in terra cotta, wax and stone.

Jackie,

Thank you so much for everything that you have done for me. I really appreciate all that ~~the~~ you did trying to get me front row seats. I really enjoyed the play, it was the best. The cast, music, and scenery were all terrific. I really didn't mind the wait to see it if it meant that I could get front row seats! Thanks a bunch

Thanks,
Tara

P.S. I was going to get Roule, the Phantom, and Christine's autographs after the show but they only ~~came~~ had time to eat, put their make up back on & take a nap because they had another show. So I'm going to write to them!

Dear Jackie,

Death claims Grubaugh

Sunday, July 8, 1979

Yucca Valley civic leader Phyllis Odette Grubaugh died July 8 at Eisenhower Medical Center following a year-long battle with cancer.

An assistant vice president and Yucca Valley branch manager of Allstate Savings and Loan Association, Grubaugh was 52 years old.

She died eight days after she was honored at a reception at Scenic Mountain for her 21 years of active interest and dedication to Yucca Valley.

A native of San Pedro, Grubaugh is survived by a son, Jay and two daughters, Gale and Robin Murphy, all of Yucca Valley. Her brother, Colin Campbell is from Fountain Valley and her father, Walter Reimauk, lives in Desert Hot Springs.

The Rev. Gerald Lyman of Desert

Hills Presbyterian Church will conduct services at 10:30 a.m. July 11 at Wiefels and Son Chapel, Yucca Valley.

Following cremation, her ashes will be buried next to her late husband in Stockton.

Grubaugh came to Yucca Valley in 1958 following the death of her husband, a U.S. Army warrant officer who was stationed in Germany.

Before entering the savings and loan association business, she worked for several local real estate firms including those of Bill Williams, Frances Ross, Marvin Krantz and Art Miller.

She became prominent in local activities almost immediately following her move to Yucca Valley when she became a member of the Hi-Desert Memorial Hospital Citizens Council. Her work on that council was to hallmark her interest in and promotion of health care in the Hi-Desert.

She spearheaded the organization of the Yucca Valley Memorial Hospital Guild in February, 1963 and the thrift shop which opened in May, 1964.

She was a leader in the Arthritis Foundation activities in Yucca Valley and a prominent local figure in the Annual Arthritis Telethon and the Easter Seal Telethon.

Her stitchery, such as the Indian above, consists of hundreds of different colors of thread to make it as realistic as possible.

Shared visions

By JENNIFER BLAKLEY

Basin Life Editor

YUCCA VALLEY — Back in 1965 a small group of artists got together to form an organization where members could meet to show off their work, critique each other and have a good time.

Who would have ever guessed that over the years membership in the Yucca Valley Art Association would sometimes reach 200 to 300 members?

Though the Association holds many art shows and functions throughout the year, none is more fun and exciting for the members than their annual Grubstake Days Round Up.

The show, first held in 1975, is the Association's largest show of the year.

It will be held in the Pomona Savings and Loan parking lot at the corner of Twentynine Palms Highway and Old Woman Springs Road Saturday through Monday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Grubstake Days weekend.

In addition to the vast array of paintings, crafts, ceramics, leather, stained glass and the like, on Sunday local guitarist Chuck Sledge will entertain guests with a variety of music.

The artists park their recreational vehicles in the parking lot and have a weekend-long campout together.

On Friday night the members will have a "steak bake," according to Betty Warner, a member since 1975.

Though the art show has been held in much the same way for decades, as Dorothy Workman, a member since 1974, will attest, people's tastes change over time.

"One year I painted outhouses and the next year everyone wanted them, but I hadn't painted any," Workman explained. "The next year I had plenty, everyone wanted geraniums."

"The next year, the same thing happened with the geraniums," she laughed.

Artists other than members of the Association participate in the art show as well. Many come from all over Southern California.

To show work in the show, Warner said, all work must be the original art of the artist.

"This keeps it truly an art show and not a swap meet," she said.

The art show attracts all ages and all kinds of people. And there's something in most everyone's price range.

Crafts, like magnets for example, sell for as little as $5. But then for those searching for more spectacular art, there are paintings which sell for as much as $3,000.

Many of the artists have been members for decades.

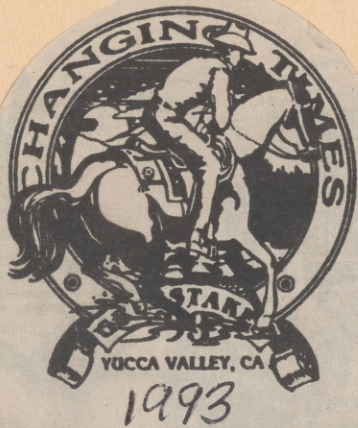

"Once you get in the Association, you're hooked and can't get out," Warner laughed.

The Yucca Valley Art Association will hold its regular meeting on Monday at the Masonic Lodge, beginning with a potluck at noon, followed by a meeting at 1 p.m.

Artists can bring a painting of their favorite vacation spot for informal judging.

This month's program will be a demonstration of the art of air brushing by the award-winning artist, Hazel Bader.

The airbrush is an instrument which mixes air and paint into a fine mist, lending itself to many mediums and creative techniques.

Bader and her husband have been residents of Joshua Tree since 1987, when they designed and built their home.

Bader works in most media, including oil paints, pen and ink and airbrush.

She is working on a series of watercolors and pastels, some of which she uses the airbrush as undercoating.

Bader is past president of the Chaparral Artists and is the director of Studio Two.

For information call Jackie Smith at 228-1343. 6-30-93

Bill & Geri Friant have been members of the Yucca Valley Art Association for over a year, and have recently been appointed to the board as publicity chair persons. For the June meeting, Bill presented a slide show on the clubs trip to the Huntington Library, and Tucson area. The show was well received, and Bill was invited to present another show for the August meeting. The August show included views of the Grand Canyon, Natural Bridges, and Arches National Parks.

The Friants moved to Yucca Valley in Sept. 1990 after residing in Seattle Wa. where Bill was employed by The Boeing Co. as an Aerospace Engineer/Flight test Engineer for 30 years. Both Bill & Geri were former Calif. residents. In Seattle they were board members of the Boeing Employees Travel Club for ten years, with Bill serving as president for two

On the travel club trips to places such as South America, Europe, Australia, New Zealand, and monthly trips around the Pacific Northwest, and nearby states by bus and train, Geri photographed club members enjoying activities, while Bill took slide photographs of historical sites, scenic views and interesting people and places.

Bill & Geri really love living in Yucca Valley and enjoy the Art Association, it's talented Artists and their activities, and plan to see and photograph more of the wonders and attractions of the Great American Southwest.

The Friants are members of the High Desert Photo Fans, The Museum Association as well as the Art Association

★ ★ MAC DAVIS made his Broadway debut in The Will Rogers Follies at The Palace Theatre on Broadway on May 18, 1992, where he played the cowboy-philosopher for nine months. Mr. Davis' career has successfully spanned every aspect of the entertainment industry – from music and television to film and the concert stage. As a recording artist, Mr. Davis has earned numerous gold record singles that include "I Believe in Music," "Stop and Smell the Roses," "One Hell of a Woman," and "Baby Don't Get Hooked on Me," which received a Grammy nomination for Best Vocal Performance and a Country Music Association Award nomination for Best Song. Other hit songs include "Hooked on Music," "Hard to Be Humble," "Whoever Finds This I Love You," "Texas in My Rearview Mirror," and "My Bestest Friend." Mr. Davis' albums include "Mac Davis," "Song Painter," "Burnin' Thing," "Stop and Smell the Roses," "I Believe in Music," "Forever Lovers," "All the Love in the World," "Baby Don't Get Hooked on Me," and "Somewhere in America." As a songwriter, Mr. Davis wrote three hits for Elvis Presley: "Memories," "Don't Cry Daddy" and "In the Ghetto," which received a Grammy nomination for Best Song. He has also written hit songs for Kenny Rogers, Bobby Goldsboro, and O.C. Smith among others. In addition to his accomplishments as a recording artist and songwriter, Mr. Davis has enjoyed success as an entertainer with SRO concert performances throughout the country, particularly in Las Vegas, Reno, Lake Tahoe, and Atlantic City. Mr. Davis was selected the Country Music Academy's Entertainer of the Year and the Favorite Male Performer by the People's Choice Awards. Mr. Davis has starred in the films North Dallas Forty, The Sting II, and Cheaper to Keep Her and for television, he starred in his own variety series and has guest-starred on many others. Born and raised in Lubbock, Texas, Mr. Davis moved to Atlanta where he attended Emory University and Georgia State College. When he first entered the music industry, he worked as a promotion sales manager for Vee Jay Records, then later in the publishing division of Liberty Records. Before pursuing a career in music, Mr. Davis worked as a ditch digger, service station attendant, laborer, and probation officer. He is married to Lise Davis and has three sons, Scott, Noah, and Cody. ★ ★

PROFILES

KEITH CARRADINE (Will Rogers) reprises the role of Will Rogers, which he originated on Broadway, in the national touring company of The Will Rogers Follies. For his performance on Broadway, Mr. Carradine was nominated for a Tony Award. Mr. Carradine was born on August 8, 1949 in San Mateo, California. The son of the late John Carradine (veteran character actor and father of acting brothers David and Robert), Keith grew up in California where he attended high school at the Ojai Valley School and then went on to Colorado State University in Fort Collins. He began his professional career in March of 1969 when he joined the Broadway cast of the hit musical Hair, eventually playing the lead role of Claude. In February of 1970, Keith left the cast and returned to California to pursue a film career. Three months later, he landed his first film role as a young gunslinger in A Gunfight with Kirk Douglas and Johnny Cash. This was followed by a featured role in the Robert Altman film McCabe and Mrs. Miller with Warren Beatty and Julie Christie. Thus began his association with Altman, during which time he starred in Altman's Thieves Like Us and Nashville. During the filming of Thieves Like Us, director Altman became aware of Keith's songwriting talent and several of his compositions were used in the Nashville soundtrack. His song "I'm Easy" won an Academy Award and a Golden Globe Award for Best Song in a Motion Picture in 1975, and his Asylum Records recording rose to the top ten on the charts. He released two long-playing albums on Asylum—"I'm Easy" and "Lost and Found." It was on the set of Nashville that Keith met and worked with filmmaker Alvin Rudolph. They have gone on to collaborate on four films to date: Welcome to L.A., Choose Me, Trouble in Mind, and The Moderns. In The Moderns, Keith returned to the passion of his teens, painting, and provided several canvases for the film, one of which was used as the film's poster. His other feature films include Emperor of the North, The Duellists, Pretty Baby by director Louis Malle, The Long Riders by Walter Hill and also starring brothers Robert and David, Southern Comfort again by Hill, The Inquary, Cold Feet, Marjia's Lovers, The Bachelor, Cross Cross, and, most recently, Merchant/Ivory's The Ballad of the Sad Cafe. Keith Carradine's television credits include the miniseries "A Rumor of War," "Chiefs," and "Murder Ordained," and films for television such as "A Winner Never

Keith Carradine and The New Ziegfeld Girls

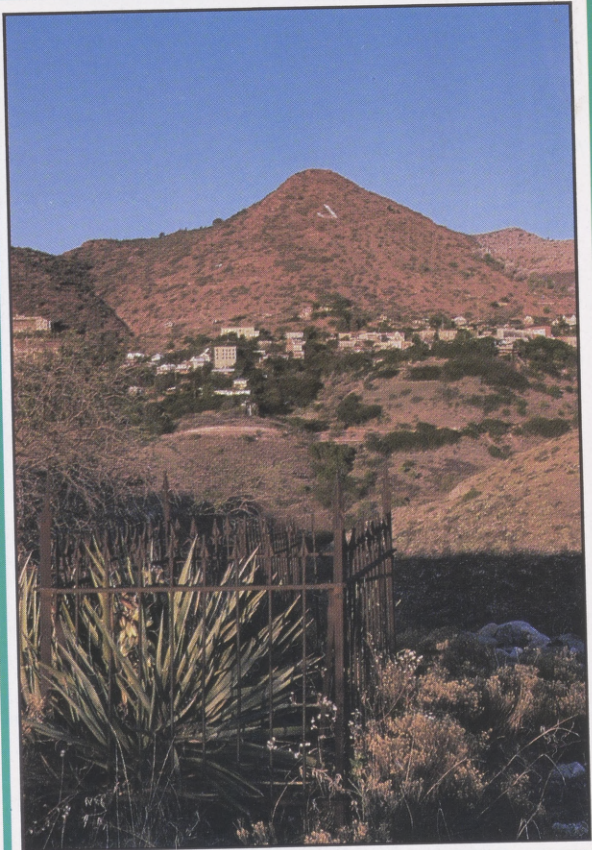

Quits," "My Father, My Son," "Stones for Ibarra," "Eye on the Sparrow," and "Judgement." On the stage, he has performed in productions of Tobacco Road with his father, the Broadway production of Flagfire with Hume Cronyn and Jessica Tandy (for which he won the Outer Critics Circle Award), and Detective Story at the Alhambra Theater in Los Angeles. Keith is married to Sandra Will and they have two children. He is also the father of rising star Martha Plimpton.

DEE HOTY (Betty Blake) reprises the role of Betty Blake, which she originated on Broadway, for the national touring company of The Will Rogers Follies. Ms. Hoty adds her 1991 Tony Award nomination as Best

Actress in a Musical for her leading role in The Will Rogers Follies to the Outer Critics Circle Award nomination she received for her performance as Angela Kingsley/Carla Haywood in City of Angels. Audiences will remember her from other Broadway appearances that include Me and My Girl, Big River, The Five O'Clock Girl, and Shakespeare's Cabaret. She toured nationally opposite Stacy Keach in Barnum and regionally she has appeared at Actors Theatre of Louisville, Cleveland Playhouse, Goodspeed Opera House and Ford's Theatre. Off-Broadway she performed in Personals, Vanities and Forbidden Broadway. She recently made her cabaret debut in two sold-out evenings at New York's popular Tea Room. Past film and television

A building moving 225 feet from its original location. In the 1920's a large dynamite explosion caused a shift of the earth which started the jail on its journey.

A place that was truly a ghost town after the copper mines closed in 1953 but was revitalized in the late 1960's as an artists' colony.

(OPPOSITE PAGE) Frank Lloyd Wright coined the term "organic architecture," meaning architecture that springs from the forms and textures of the land around it. Yet Wright never designed any building so intimately related to its setting as did the Sinaguas, here at Montezuma Castle. GEORGE H.H. HUEY

Tuzigoot

Tuzigoot (Apache for "crooked water") is the remnant of a Sinaguan village built between 1125 and 1400. It crowns the summit of a long ridge that rises 120 feet above the Verde Valley. The original pueblo was two stories high in places and had 77 ground-floor rooms. There were few exterior doors; entry was by way of ladders through openings in the roofs. The village began as a small cluster of rooms that were inhabited by about 50 persons for a hundred years. In the 1200s the population doubled and doubled again as refugee farmers, fleeing drought in outlying areas, settled here.

Montezuma Castle

Sinagua farmers began building this five-story, 20-room dwelling early in the 12th century. It stands in a cliff recess a hundred feet above the valley. Early settlers marveled at the structure and thought mistakenly that it was Aztec in origin. A short distance west is Castle A, once an imposing six-story apartment with about 45 rooms, now a badly deteriorated ruin. This dwelling was built against the base of the cliff. The Sinaguans probably thought this was a good place to live. The creek was a reliable source of water, and there was fertile land on the nearby terrace.

Montezuma Well

Montezuma Well has all the surprise of a lake and fairly lush vegetation in the midst of desert. The well is a limestone sink formed long ago by the collapse of an immense underground cavern. The springs that feed it flow continuously. Both the Hohokam and Sinagua irrigated crops with its waters. Traces of their irrigation ditches, thickly coated with lime, can be seen. The Hohokam pithouse on view was built about 1100. The Sinaguan dwellings here vary in size from large pueblos of 55 rooms to one-room houses. Between 1125 and 1400 about 150 to 200 Sinaguans lived here.

Location Montezuma Castle National Monument and Montezuma Well are about 50 miles south of Flagstaff, Arizona, off I-17. Tuzigoot National Monument is about 50 miles south of Flagstaff via U.S. Alt. 89, the scenic road through Oak Creek Canyon.

Activities Both Montezuma Castle and Tuzigoot have visitor centers with exhibits on the prehistoric Sinagua people who lived in this region. All three sites have short, hard-surfaced walking trails. The trail at Montezuma Castle is fully accessible to wheelchairs.

For Your Safety Please stay on established trails. • Be alert for snakes. • Avoid over-exposure to the sun and heat.

Related Sites Other sites illustrative of the Sinagua people are Walnut Canyon National Monument on the outskirts of Flagstaff; Wupatki National Monument, 45 miles north of Flagstaff on U.S. 89; and Sunset Crater Volcano National Monument, also on U.S. 89, site of volcanic eruptions that significantly influenced Sinaguan culture.

History

In April 1961, the Sedona Arts Center, Inc. opened for business in a picturesque old apple packing barn overlooking an inspiring vista of Oak Creek and its magnificent red rock backdrop.

Founders of the Art Center rightly envisioned that people moving to Sedona would wish to have around them not only the beautiful scenery but also opportunities for cultural enjoyment and expansion.

CAST

(in order of appearance)

Leslie Scott as Laura Scott — Leslie comes to us from her engagement as Princess Jasmine in Disneyland's Alladin's Oasis. Pavilion regulars will recognize her from her appearances in The Sound of Music (as Liesl), Encore! and Everything's Coming Up Broadway. Leslie has also been featured as Sandy in Grease as Nanette in No, No, Nanette and as Wendy in Peter Pan.

Jim Gray as Chip Sampson — Jim holds an MFA in acting from Cal State Fullerton, where he was featured as Torvald in A Doll's House and as Chris Keller in All My Sons. He portrayed leading roles in All That He Was and The Manager at the Kennedy Center earlier this year, where he was honored as the Irene Ryan Award Winner for the west coast region.

Chris Bultman as Matt Chambers — Originally from Bloomington, Indiana, Chris holds a BA from Butler University, where he appeared as Joseph in Joseph, and as MacHeath in Threepenny Opera. More recently, he has toured throughout Indiana as Jesus in Godspell, and has understudied the title role in Phantom at the Beef and Boards Dinner Theater.

Laurrinda Robinson as Delilah Dappleworth — Laurrinda received rave reviews for her portrayal of Sister Mary Robert Anne in Nunsense at the Pavilion. Other credits include Little Red Riding Hood in Into the Woods, Annie in Annie Get Your Gun, Claire in On The Town, and Alice in A...My Name is Alice. Laurrinda originated the role of Vickie in Shooting Star at Griswold's 'Club Musique.'

Patti McClure as Barbara "Babsie" Rockafelber — Patti was most recently featured as Ann Collier in our production of The 1940's Radio Hour. Other credits include Sister Mary Amnesia in Nunsense, Lizzie in 110 in the Shade, Jack's Mother in Into the Woods, and Marta in Company. Originally from Chattanooga, Patti holds a BA in Theatre from the University of Tennessee.

David Aldrete as Nick St. Claus — David's Pavilion appearances have included Juan Peron in Evita, Jud Fry in Oklahoma!, and Santa Claus in several previous Christmas productions. He also starred as Juan Peron in Evita at Whittier/La Mirada Theatre, and as Billy Crocker in Anything Goes. David originated the role of Jerry in Shooting Star at Griswold's 'Club Musique.'

Janice Lee as Holly St. Claus — This is Janice's eighth Christmas as Mrs. Claus, and her husband Jack and kids Katie and John win the all-time award for best support of an actress/mom. Janice also stirred Candlelight Pavilion audiences with her portrayal of the Mother Abbess in the Pavilion's first production of The Sound of Music. When not performing as a concert soloist, Janice teaches voice at Citrus College.
